

A7 BUNDY BASH FEBRUARY 2019 UPDATE

Hi fellow Bundy Bash folk.

Well it is finally getting closer, not long until we welcome all you lovely people along with your gorgeous little Austins to Bundaberg.

Brian and I have all the days trips sorted and our Welcome and Farewell Dinner's all booked. We are going to have the cut off date set at Monday April 15th. So if anyone else is still interested in joining us can you please get organised. We have been told there are still cabins etc. available at the Big 4 Caravan Park.

This is the list of members who have booked and already let us know, so if your name is not here and you have booked please let us know by phone or e-mail.

Remember we would like you all here on or before, whatever you have booked by Wednesday 15th May for our welcoming dinner that evening. Some of you have already notified us that you can only attend for certain days. Thank you, this makes doing bookings for meals etc. a lot easier.

As I type this we are awaiting Cyclone OMA. We wish she would buzz off and go and annoy someone else. Rain is desperately needed here in Bundy, like most places but we don't want all the extras thank you. Hope if it goes down towards Brisbane and the Coast you all fair OK.

In the next week or so I will get together a graph which I will e-mail to all the above members as to what you need to do and have ready for us. Mainly being the correct money for the two dinners on the Wednesday, when you arrive. Most mornings for morning tea we will be stopping at places where you can buy coffee and food or bring your own Thermos etc. This will be all itemized on your e-mails.

We will be having you on your toes as most mornings our briefings will be at 8.30am over at the Bundaberg Vintage Vehicle Clubrooms. Directions etc will all be sent to you, everything is very close to our accommodation.

Hope this finds you all getting those adorable little Austins ready for a few fun days.

Cheers Ann and Brian Brindley
